Out Fishin'

A fellow isn't thinkin' mean, Out fishin';
His thoughts are mostly good and clean, Out fishin';
He doesn't knock his fellow men,
Or harbor any grudges then;
A feller's at his finest, when Out fishin'.
The rich are comrades to the poor, Out fishin';
All brothers of a common lure, Out fishin';
The urchins with the pin an' string
Can chum with millionaire an' King;
Vain pride is a forgotten thing Out fishin'.
A feller gits a chance to dream, Out fishin';
He learns the beauties of a stream, Out fishin';
An' he can wash his soul in air
That isn't foul with selfish care,
An' relish plain and simple fare Out fishin'.
A feller has no time for hate Out fishin';
He isn't eager to be great, Out fishin';
He isn't thinkin' thoughts of self;
Or goods stacked high upon a shelf,
But he is always just himself, Out fishin'.
A feller's glad to be a friend, Out fishin';
A helpin' hand he'll always lend, Out fishin';
The brotherhood of rod an' line
An' sky an' stream is always fine;
Men come real close to God's design, Out fishin'.
A feller isn't plotting schemes, Out fishin';
He's only busy with his dreams, Out fishin';
His livery is a coat of tan,
His creed: — to do the best he can;
A feller's always mostly man, Out fishin'.

I ONLY WISH I'D KNOWN HER: Mary Bailey, a former teacher, died in Perry a week ago at the age of 91. She was known as a good heart who always took time for three things — children, going fishing and writing poetry.

To show you the woman's perspective on life, I offer here one of her poems, which was read at her funeral. She called it "The Good Old Days."

Tear out your plumbing,
Stop up the sewer,
Take out the telephone
And other things newer,
Rip out the furnace,
Turn off the lights,
Shut up the movies,
Stay home at nights.
Throw out the gas range,
The radio, too;
Junk your new auto,
A buggy will do.
Cancel your paper,
Your paved roads discard;
Toss the refrigerator
Out in the yard.
Stop vacuum cleaning
And such new-fangled ways,
If you want to go back,
To those "Good Old Days."
